

ANNOTATIONS

Artem VDOVYCHENKO, Halyna OROS

The impact of economic and political cycles on discrete component of fiscal and monetary policy in Ukraine

The article deals with the presence of political and business cycle in indicators of discretionary fiscal and monetary policy. Based on the analysis of existing empirical and theoretical literature authors proved the relevance and importance of the study, in particular argued that in Ukrainian-like economies political cycles have significant impact on macroeconomic policy. Based on empirical data was revealed a significant dependence of discretionary fiscal policy decisions from the political events that distort economic logic of their application at the same time it is stated that monetary instruments are apolitical. In the article stated that for Ukraine is typical scenario where monetary policy is aimed at mitigating adverse fiscal consequences in the process of political manipulations.

Oleksiy MOLDOVAN

Tax incentives management for R&D promotion in the world practice

The different types of tax instruments to promote R&D are analysed, as well as mechanisms for their management in the countries that have achieved essential progress in the development of innovative economy. The advantages and disadvantages of the different fiscal tools are considered as well as their effectiveness are evaluated. The global trend of increasing popularity of tax instruments within public policy to promote innovative activity is considered.

Mykhajlo VITER, Myron SENDZJUK, Olena TYSHCHENKO

State authorities' information interaction in the system of state finances management

The article presents research of the state authorities' information interaction process in the system of state finances management. The types of such interaction are determined and systemized, problems that encountered in the horizontal and vertical interaction of public finance management are analyzed and ways of improving the different types of interactions are proposed.

Viktorija TRAYTLI

Improvement of the methodological and normative legal providing of the government special purpose programs in the context of foreign experience

The program and target method is considered on the level of public programs. The standard legislative base and the methodology on development of target programs, on their introduction, implementation and effectiveness of Ukraine and the world are analysed. The positive moments and shortcomings of the domestic legislation and the methodology of this sphere are defined. The necessity of modernization of normative and methodological providing of the government special purpose programs is proved on the base of foreign experience.

Roman KULYK, Yulia NOVAK

Basic concepts of financial security assessment in business system

It is specified the economic sense of the concept "finance assessment in business system" and stated its role in the general security systems. The methodical approaches to the assessment of business financial security are analysed and pointed their drawbacks. The new concept of financial security assessment in business system considering its lifecycle is proposed.

Bohdan MALYNJAK

Directions of modernization of treasury services budgets in Ukraine

The conceptual foundations of treasury forms, budgets, its benefits and “bottlenecks” in comparison with other forms are investigated. The directions of modernization of treasury services budgets in Ukraine are grounded. The necessity of introducing participatory approach to building relations between the Treasury and spending units and activities on the basis of providing appropriate services for participants in the budget process.

Natalija TKACHENKO, Dmytro CHEHOVSKYJ

Theoretical bases of bank deposits guaranteeing

On the basis of critical analysis and synthesis of existing domestic and foreign attitudes to the interpretation of concepts “system” and “mechanism” in the context of guaranteeing bank deposits it is formulated author’s vision of the definitions and the model of the mechanism of bank deposits’ guarantee.

Jevheniy SKOK

Ukrainian interbank credit market: analysis from position of prospects providing of price stability

The main tendencies of the Ukrainian interbank credit market during and after 2008 year financial and economic crisis are investigated in the context of the country macroeconomic development. Basic changes are analysed in politics of National bank of Ukraine in the sphere of the interbank crediting under influence of priority of price stability providing.

Hanna RAZUMOVA, Dar’ja SOKOLOVA

Theoretical and applied aspects of financial resilience of the commercial bank

The approaches to determining the financial resilience of the commercial bank are analysed. The calculation of financial stability indicators in the example of a commercial bank JSC “OTP Bank” is developed. The factors that affect the financial stability of a commercial bank are defined.

Oksana LESKIV, Julia HALITSEYSKA

The modern state of Ukrainian currency market

The modern trends of Ukrainian currency market are analysed; the reasons of fluctuations of exchange rates and destabilization of currency market are examined; the measures which will contribute to the further stable development of currency market of the country are suggested.

Oleksandr ZALJETOV

Impact of world economy globalization on the state regulation of insurance market

The essence of globalization of the world economy is considered and its impact on the insurance market. There measures to improve state regulation of the insurance market of Ukraine are offered in modern terms, involving the introduction of self-regulation.

Mykhajlo KUZHELJEV, OIha SHAKURA

The formation of the state regulation paradigm of commercial insurance system

The prerequisites for the formation of the modern paradigm of state regulation of commercial insurance are investigated. The economic and historical model of insurance relations formation and development is proposed, which reflects the evolution of the state economic and legal role in shaping the development of the system of governance of commercial insurance.

Halja KOZAK

Ways to optimize the functioning of private pension funds in Ukraine

The current state of non-state pension funds in Ukraine is analysed. The problems of their operation are founded. The means are offered about the improving of activities of non-state pension funds, in particular: encouraging growth in the number of participants, expanding areas of investment of pension assets, improvement of the state regulation mechanisms of private pension system.

Iryna TKACHUK, Roman SHCHUR

Financial providing of investment projects with regional development

The problems with financial providing of zero investment projects are considered. Sources and algorithm of financial of zero investment projects are distinguished. The structural and logical system of financial providing of state private partnership is worked out in investment sphere.

Natalija KARPYSHYN

Formation of local budget from lease and privatizing of municipal property

The modern problems and role of the lease and privatizing of municipal property in formation of Ternopol budget revenues are analysed. The dynamics of amounts and quota of revenues from leasing and privatization of municipal property in the structure of own local budget revenues and capital budget are estimated. The proposals to increase local budget revenues through lease and privatization of public property are presented.

Oksana KAYDANNYK

The perspectives of introduction of public-private partnership on municipal enterprises

The scientific views regarding the classification of the forms of public-private partnership (PPP) are systematized. Their strengths and weaknesses are outlined. Investigates the prospects of various forms of PPPs for the development of municipal enterprises in Ukraine are grounded.