

taking place in the consciousness of the subject, describing it i will appear in the criminal act and attitude of a person to acts committed by it. The concept and basic features subjectively robbery. Established that the blame is conscious and willful attitude of a person not to all the circumstances that characterize the act but only to those that are signs of the crime and characterize its object and objective way, and sometimes the subject. Established that the property in the commission of violent criminal attacks has not only deliberately relatively to commit robbery, but with the intent to use violence as a means of taking possession of the victim of his property. in determining intent should consider factors both objective and subjective. Since the robbery – a crime of formal and truncated composition, objective harm can not be caused, but the guilty person is liable because its actions pose a real danger to society. So thorough and exhaustive study method of committing the crime together with other circumstances of the case to set the actual content of the subject robbery intent, based on damage or injury of the victim, and thereby avoid errors in classifying the act.

Keywords: public danger; the subjective side; intent; fault; robbery; criminal.

UDC 343.351+343.53

Gribovsky Alexander – Researcher
of Special Equipment and Operational Activities Department of the National Academy of Internal Affairs

OPERATIONAL-DETECTIVE CHARACTERISTIC OF ILLEGAL BENEFITS

In this article author reveals issues of operational-detective characteristic of illegal benefits, explains its differences from criminological and criminalistic characteristic.

Author observe that criminal-legal characteristic determine: the concept of acceptance of the proposal, promising or receiving illegal benefit by an official (art. 368 of the Criminal codes of Ukraine), identifies its stages, determines the system of this crime and researching it in terms of public danger. It is noted that criminal signs are the source to operational characteristics of crimes, because in the absence of evidence of crime can not be a question of operational-search feature. Criminological characteristics contains information about criminogenic factors, state, structure and dynamics of illegal benefits and predict conditions, that have an influence on electing goal of a crime, time, place, method and others terms of preparation to committing a crime; the circumstances that contribute to the formation of offender, circumstances that improve the process of creating a goal of crime, the motives of the crime. Criminalistics characteristic is key starting point for the formation methods of investigating these crimes, where according to the general objectives of the criminal proceedings is made to ensure rapid, full and impartial investigation into these crimes, if the evidence obtained in the manner provided by law that are relevant for criminal proceedings and be proved.

It is noted that operational-detective characteristic not duplicate content characteristics other data jurisprudence, but a independent type of complex characteristics of illegal benefit.

Keywords: operational-detective characteristic; of illegal benefits.

UDC 343.8

Rudik Mikola – Researcher of Department of Criminology and Penal Law of the National
Academy of Internal Affairs

PSYCHOSOCIAL FACTORS IN THE DETERMINATION YOUTH CRIME IN UKRAINE

The article highlights the role of social and psychological factors in the determination of crime as a criminological category. Considered criminological concepts reasons at different levels of aggregation, individual families and groups of offenses cause