

ANNOTATION

Svitlana Kucherenko

Legal regulation of enterprise bankruptcy in Ukraine's economy

Legal regulation of enterprise bankruptcy in Ukraine's economy is investigated in the article. Methodological principles of structure of government control mechanisms of bankruptcy of Ukrainian enterprises are substantiated and its efficiency is analysed.

Yevheniia Shelest

Regional agency promoting export potential of engineering companies: organizational and methodological basis for their creation

The article deals with methodical and practical advice on the creation of regional agencies to promote the development of export potential, there are defined their objectives, tasks, functions and organizational structure. We describe the procedure of interaction of the system of state regulation of foreign trade activity of engineering companies, which provides the place and role of these agencies.

Vasyl Brych, Mykhailo Fedirko

Regulation of natural monopoly enterprises in Ukraine's cooperation with the European Energy Community

The question of regulation of natural monopoly enterprises as part of the overall infrastructure of the energy market in the countries of the European Energy Community and in Ukraine is discussed in this article. The methods and tools of state regulation of natural monopolies of companies in the market are investigated here. Based on experience in comparing countries of the European Energy Community and Ukraine methods of regulating natural monopolies in Ukraine are offered.

Halyna Smaliuk

Effectiveness of global regulation techniques of the world agricultural market

Theoretical and methodological basis for regulating global markets are discussed in the article. The analysis of the reality of threats to the world agricultural market to collapse is made.

Svitlana Suvorova

Regulatory and legal support of market research

The article deals with the analysis of the regulatory and legal framework for the implementation of market research in Ukraine. There are defined the main legal and ethical norms for conducting a research, the basic aspects of the regulation of relations between members of the research process. The main regulators of the international and national levels and their requirements for quality of the research procedures are also discussed here.

Nadiia Machuha

Numerical evaluation of the quality of health services

The article analyzed the legal principles of functioning of health insurance. There are substantiated the need to reform the existing health care system and proposed a matrix of criteria for evaluating the quality of medical services.

Yaroslav Krupka, Ivan Kuz

Modeling of the systems and procedures of accounting

The results of the study characterized the relationship of the individual theoretical provisions of the accounting process: accounting procedure, the system of accounting and modeling. This approach has given the complexity of the assessment and understanding of the essence and contents of these concepts, and in particular the formation of the interdependencies between them.

Larysa Rodionova

The search of the cognition paradigm of historical and economic development (theoretical basis for understanding world history)

The theoretical problems of periodization of economic history in the context of holistic understanding of world historical development were considered. The paradigms of the historic and economic development cognition as alternative theoretical construct were explained. The peculiarities of their interactions and issues of mutual complementarity in the research were clarified.

Stepan Popina, Olesya Martynyuk

Some aspects of securities portfolio optimization

Well-known economic and mathematical models for securities portfolio optimization are complemented by the ratio between the shares of investment. A trade-off that takes