

ANNOTATION

O. Vasylenko, R. Troyan “Legal principles of state policy on the protection of orphans and children deprived of parental care”.

The analysis on problem of social protection of children's rights in Ukraine was carrying-out in the article; historical stage of formation of international childhood rights law and state policy of independent Ukraine in protecting children's rights was examined; legal principles of state policy on the protection of orphans and children deprived of parental care was described.

Keywords: public policy, protection of rights, orphans and children deprived of parental care.

B. Galovskyi “Peculiarities of upbringing of humanistic values of students' youth”.

The problem of upbringing of humanistic values in students' youth are described in this article; different approaches to the definition of notions “humanism” and “humanistic education” are characterized; factors of humanization of the training process in higher training institution are studied; the role of specialists of social sphere in upbringing of humanistic values in students' youth is substantiated.

Keywords: humanism, humanization of education, humanistic values, students' youth

N. Gorobets „The readiness of the future social workers to the professional activity”.

The article describes the key approaches to the interpretation of the concept of „readiness”, in particular psychological and personal readiness. Based on the analysis of psychological and pedagogical literature in the article defining the structural components that provide the formation of readiness of the future social workers to the profession, as well as many scientists discussed the features of psychological readiness of students to professional work.

Keywords: readiness, psychological readiness, personal readiness, preparedness components.

S. Grynkov “Current trends of volunteering in Ukraine”.

The article is dedicated to the study of the history of the unselfish help development in the world and in Ukraine, to the research of the modern tendencies of the voluntary movement in Ukraine. The article also identifies the main objectives and purposes of volunteering, the main problems and challenges of volunteering in Ukraine. The concepts of “volunteering” “voluntary movement”, “voluntary activity” and “volunteer work style” were single out.

Key words: volunteer, volunteer help, volunteering, unselfish help, volunteer organization.

O. Grunskaja „Methods of formation of socially adequate behavior of children of younger school age as tools of the social teacher”.

In article the author characterizes socially pedagogical activity of the social teacher on formations of socially adequate behavior of younger school students. In research effective methods of formation of socially adequate behavior, namely research methods, methods of social education, methods of socially psychological support which are the main tools in were established to work of the social teacher.

Keywords: methods of socially pedagogical activity, social teacher, younger school student, socially adequate behavior.

O. Danchenko, V. Tserklevych „Possibilities of using of German experience in professional training of future specialists”.

The article is devoted to the actual state of implementation of career guidance in the national school system. The results of the focus group study personal vision in terms of students – future specialists training areas „catering”, „Hotel and restaurant business”. Basic problems of students with pre-professional training. Concisely presents the operating system pre-professional / pre-university training in modern Germany. A certain aspects of implementation capacity of the elements in the practice of local universities.

Keywords: professional orientation, pre-professional training, college students, professional development, professional, professional self-experience of Germany.

K. Ignatenko „Features of estimation of necessities of foster families are in the process of social support”.

In the article considered to the feature of estimation of necessities of foster family. Some aspects of social accompaniment open up in relation to foster families. The value of social worker is presented in the process of social support and realization of estimation of necessities of orphans and children deprived of parental care. A task and maintenance of activity of social worker is described during the grant of social and pedagogical support on the different stages (preparatory, adaptive, supporting).

Keywords: estimation of necessities, social support, social and pedagogical support, algorithm of estimation of necessities.

Yu. Klochan “Professional pedagogical communication of a social pedagogue”.

Effective levels of communication, inspiring skills and personal characteristics of the social pedagogue in the course of professional pedagogical communication are examined in this article. The business and spiritual levels of communication are investigated as effective ones.

The article also describes the professionally important personal characteristics of a specialist in the course of communication. The methods of positive impact on interlocutor's personality in the course of professional pedagogical communication of social pedagogue have been analyzed.

Key words: professional pedagogical communication, inspiring skills, business communication style of social pedagogue.

N. Koval “The methodology of studying of social decency of senior pupils of schools for mentally retarded children”.

The article describes the methodology of studying of social decency of senior pupils of schools for mentally retarded children. We specified and gave the characteristics for creterions of mentally retarded senior pupils civicism. We described the methods by using which it is possible to specify and study the components of civicism and the levels of formation of senior pupils of schools for mentally retarded children.

Key words: civic education, mentally impaired senior pupils, methodology of studying of social decency of senior pupils, schools for mentally retarded children.

A. Koshura “Indicators and level of development of physical education in higher educational institutions of Poland”.

In the article on the basis of mathematical-statistical analysis, reviewed and determined the level of development and the dynamics of the main indicators of the status of physical education in higher educational institutions of Poland. Defined and revealed conceptual essence of the definition of „level of development of physical education in educational institutions of Poland.

Keywords: physical education, indicator, development, assessment.

L. Kravchuk, “Health-Technology – a leading educational condition of students”.

In the article the Health-leading technology educational condition of students. The reason for the deterioration of healthy technology to intensify the educational process, methods and technologies discrepancy education age and functional reserve, irrational organization of training activities, functional incompetence of the teaching staff on issues of protection and promotion of health, the lack of a unified system of values to form a healthy lifestyle.

Keywords: health-technology students.

L. Kurniak “Environmental culture: concepts and formation”.

This article tells about essence of the meaning „ecological culture” and background of the importance of its formation for the future of the world. Analysis of the contemporary state and peculiarities in formation of the ecological culture of the student-youth.

From the analysis of social researches of the structure of value orientations of students-youth described above the conclusion is that ecological values are not important and necessary and important for students-youth.

Keywords: ecological culture, transformation, student environment.

M. Necheporuk “Socio-psychological research of emotional sphere of unemployed”.

Socio-psychological research of emotional sphere of unemployed is described in this article by the author. Notions “unemployment”, “socio-psychological consequences of unemployment”. “socio-economic consequences of unemployment” and “psychological states of unemployed” are determined.

Keywords: unemployment, employment of population, labour market, negative psychic states, emotional and will sphere.

N. Ostrovska “Conscious parenting youth as a basis for the harmonious development of the child in the family”

The article is a theoretical analysis of the phenomenon of conscious parenting youth as the basis for harmonious development of a child in the family; The essence of the concepts of “parenting” and “conscious parenthood”; the characteristic of developed forms of parenting and determined conditions for the formation of conscious parenting youth as the basis for the harmonious development of the child in the family.

Key words: paternity, conscious parenting, youth, family formation.

P. Radko “Role of the history in the cogitation of national traditions and humanization of education in understanding of views of Mykhailo Grushevskiy”.

In this article social-education role of history in interpretation of national traditions and humanization of education is defined. This important problem is opened in context of creative inheritance of outstanding scientist, person of wide erudition, Ukrainian historian and statesman Myhailo Hrushevsky.

Keywords: national tradition, humanization of education, social-education.

I. Syomkina “Features of family socialization in modern conditions”.

This article tells about to examine the characteristics of family socialization in modern conditions. Socialization is a process of initiation adopted in society values and norms, which occurs throughout life. Considering the notion of family socialization can immediately tell that it is preparation for future family rolls, as well as the impact of family on formation of a socially competent adult person.

Keywords: family, socialization, family socialization.

A. Fradynska, Y. Lazarevska “Fairy tale therapy as the way of psycho correction of the young students’ emotional sphere”.

In this article we can see the psycho correctional action of the influence of the fairy tale method on the juniors’ emotional sphere of. Also we can find the justification and the description of the term “fairy tale therapy”, the essence of the psycho correction influence of the fairy tale in each human age period. It should be noted that the classification of types and functions of fairy tales based on the existing children’s problems is a very important paragraph in this article too.

Keywords: younger students, fairy tail therapy, emotions.

M. Chaikovskiy “Integration and inclusion of youth with special needs: socio-pedagogic component”.

This article is the terminological analysis of the notions “integration” and “inclusion” and their basic definitions such as “inclusive education” and “inclusive education of youth with special needs” and the studying of socio-pedagogical experience of implementation of integration and inclusion of youth with special needs into activity of foreign and native educational establishments.

Keywords: integration, inclusion, inclusive education, inclusive education of youth with special needs.

O. Shevchuk “Vocational self-determination of senior students at the Ukrainian comprehensive school”.

The paper describes the main problems and key features of vocational self-determination among the comprehensive school students at the last years of their education. Specifically, the origins of the problems and determining factors have been identified and explained. The paper also examines the role of teachers in the formation of student’s personality and making informed choices about their future profession.

Keywords: comprehensive school, senior students, vocational self-determination, future profession, last years of education , socialization.