

Vladlena Vasyutina. Regulation of the national information space of the European Union

The article highlights the European Union system of direct and indirect requirements imposed on member states to regulate the national information space. These requirements deal with the regulation of media content, the formation of information legislation, the establishment of technical standards and the formation of the adequate information infrastructure.

Key words: information space, media content, media pluralism, the telecommunications market, the public broadcasting, European Union.
