

ANNOTATION

---

---

DIDACTICS AND METODICS

V. Boguta

Peculiarities of methodical work of students before passing of pedagogical practice at children's health-improving camps in the course of «Methodic of Educational Work»

The problem of preparation of students to passing of pedagogical practice in a summer period is considered in the article. Taking into account generalization of scientific approaches in relation to the question of the methodical providing of activity of establishments of rest and making of children healthy, with the purpose of increase of efficiency of their activity, through the prism of preparation of future teachers in higher educational establishments, the own approved program of educational discipline of «Methodic of educational work» is given. The structural-logical chart foresees all types of educational activity: lectures, practical and laboratory lessons, and individual and autonomus work, and consultations, design of pedagogical situations and others like that are outlined. Attention is concentrated on more complete opening of the semantic module from technology of work of teacher-organizer in child's health camps. With the purpose of armament of students by necessary knowledge, by abilities and skills for realization of professional activity from effective organization of educate work in out-of-school educational establishments methodical recommendations are given.

Key words: educational course, practice, methodical recommendations.

V. Boychenko

Theoretical aspects of the future teacher training to the formation of pupils' culture of intellectual work

The problem of training students of higher pedagogical establishments to the formation of pupils' culture of intellectual work is found out in the article; the attention is paid to the separate aspects of intellectual upbringing; main peculiarities of developed intellect is separated; concept of «intellectual upbringing» and «culture of intellectual work» is concretized; psychological and pedagogical aspects of children intellectual development are analysed.

Key words: training of students, mental training, thinking, a culture of intellectual work.

M. Zolochavska

Evaluation of teachers' readiness on the use of research methods in teaching

It is grounded necessity of building new professional skills of future teachers, in particular their abilities to use research methods in teaching. Interpretation of the term «Research methods in teaching» is presented in the wide and narrow understanding. The results of teachers and future teachers survey about using research methods in education are suggested. The article proposes criteria and assessment tools of students didactic-methodical competencies to use research methods training.

Key words: evaluation, research methods training, didactic-methodical competence.

T. Kachak

The peculiarities of studying the literature for children in the context of primary school teachers' training

The article deals with the peculiarities of implementing the contents and the aims of the courses on Children's Literature and World Children's Literature in the process of future primary school teachers' training; the problem of students' development has been highlighted and the ways of its solutions have been suggested. The importance of genre and topical renewal and variety of the literature under study, and the implementation of new studying techniques at the lectures, practical training classes and during students' teaching practice, has been brought into focus.

Key words: Children's Literature, analysis, literary competence.

O. Klymova

The Methodology of work with video films at the lessons of the English language

The problems of video films' usage on the lessons of English, creation and application of Method Guides have been analyzed. Examples of tasks and the system of exercises to the film are shown. The film is divided into six fragments. The author considers the work aimed to demonstrate the efficiency of such methodology.

Key words: communicative approach, listening, video film, system of exercises, methodology of usage.

J. Malezhyk

Problems of preparation of the future teachers of initial classes to teaching of a subject «fine arts» at elementary school at the present stage

It is specified that revival and restoration of national school in modern conditions of development of a society is not possible without the qualified expert, therefore problems of preparation of teachers in the field of teaching of a subject of «Fine arts» at elementary school are the most meaning and one-sidedly studied.

It is found out that features of teaching of this subject at elementary school are specific and necessary for rising generation as a whole.

Key words: complex approach, revival of national school, art education, the future teacher of the fine arts.

I. Manokhina

Training methods as an effective way in developing preparedness of future social teachers dealing with children-orphan and children deprived of parents care

The article deals with theoretically based essence of training work. Methodical bases and main advantages of using training method in developing preparation of future social teachers dealing with children-orphan and children deprived of parents care are analyzed. The author explained the fundamental differences between training method and traditional forms of teaching, determined main phases of the training method and pointed out to the skills, abilities and qualities that are formed while using training method.

Key words: social teacher, children-orphan, preparedness, training.

NEW TECHNOLOGIES

N. Bezlidna

Distantive education as innovation in pedagogic

The article presents the analysis of future teacher's training in conditions of education informatization. Distantive educational technology, positive and negative sides of this educational type are given here. Principles of distantive education are characterized in the article.

Key words: innovation, leading pedagogical experience, distantive education.

G. Breslavska

Forming of project activity of students at educational process of higher education establishments

In the article the author analyses the development and self-development of the future specialist personality in the conditions of training to project activity organization. Factors of effective forming of project activity in the information and educational environment are found. Different forms and methods are grounded.

Key words: project, activity, creativity, project activity.

Y. Zavorotna

The role of innovative educational technologies in the program of future teachers' preparation

The article focuses on the problem of future teachers' preparation with the help of innovative educational technologies. As one of the most important strategic objectives is to provide quality of future teachers' preparation to international standards on this stage of modernization of higher education in Ukraine. Solving this problem is subject to change pedagogical techniques and introduction of innovative educational technologies. Because, the task of technology in general is to determine the most effective ways and means of achieving any business goals.

Key words: technology, innovative educational technologies, training, preparation of future teachers, competitiveness.

O. Zubchenko

Application of innovative ICT for future teacher training

The article reveals the importance of application of innovative ICT for future teacher training and analyses possibilities of their implementation in the educational process of institution of higher pedagogical education. It is defined that the main innovative ICT are Web 2.0, which provides studying on the base of social interaction and network communication, and virtual learning environment, which creates the foundation for online educational courses.

Key words: information and communication technologies, Web 2.0, virtual learning environment, pedagogical education.

A. Ishchenko, O. Antosiuk

Peculiarities of informational and educational technologies using in professional training of students of higher pedagogical establishment

The paper studies the possibility of using techniques in high school designing informational and educational space on the basis of information and telecommunication technologies, substantiates the role of the Internet for practical training of future teachers, examines how information educational environment of higher pedagogical educational institution, we study the feasibility of remote leadership work of students during work experience.

Key words: professional preparation of specialist, informative-educational space, of informative-communication technologies.

S. Lupenko-Kovtun

Organizational and pedagogical conditions of forming the preparedness of future elementary school teachers to use interactive educational technologies

The author of the article considers the formation of dialogical interaction skills of future teachers as a component of their professional competence. The necessity of introduction of interactive techniques in work practice of a higher school applying interactive methods of training is emphasized. The author of the article considers the problem of organizational and pedagogical conditions forming the preparedness of future elementary school teachers to use interactive educational technologies.

Key words: humanisation, interpersonal intercourse, communicative tolerance, empathy, perceptive and interactive competence, Interaction, conversational competence, technology, problem studies, creative thought, experiment, active methods.

V. Mozgovyi

Direction of a pedagogical action as a professional function of a future teacher

The problem of pedagogical action direction as professional function of a future teacher is considered in the article. Modern approaches to the organization of pedagogical action in conditions of modern educational space are analyzed. The focus is brought to the importance of progress of pedagogical direction skills of the future teachers during professional training.

Keywords: teacher's functions, pedagogical direction, pedagogical action, professional training.

S. Kubrak

The use of information technologies in professional self-development of a future teachers of philology

The author considered the feasibility of using new information technologies in professional self-development of a future teachers of philology as well as their place and role in the informatization of education. The author gives the structure of professional self-development of a future teacher of philology.

Key words: information technology, professional self-development, information culture.

V. Fedorchuk, O. Dutko

Using of the innovative pedagogical technologies in the context of pedagogical training of a future teacher

The article is devoted to innovative pedagogical technologies and to possibilities of its using on the lessons of such pedagogical disciplines as bases of scientific and pedagogical researches, bases of pedagogical skill, history of pedagogy, comparative pedagogy, pedagogical technologies in the primary school. Although the attention is focused on interactive technologies, method of projects and multimedia technologies. The examples are given to its using in the process of training of the future teachers.

Key words: innovations, pedagogical technologies, interactive technologies, method of projects, multimedia technologies, pedagogical disciplines.

O. Yaroshynska

Environmental approach in the professional education: theoretical bases and perspectives of introduction

The problem of quality rising of the future teachers' professional training on the bases of environmental approach introduction is actualized in the article. Circle of scientists which make design of theoretical and methodical bases of introduction of this problem is outlined. General bases of introduction of this approach are suggested and its interaction with other active methodological approaches in the organization of professional training is outlined. Perspectives of research of the problem using of environmental approach in the higher school are presented.

Key words: environmental approach, educational environment, professional training.

THE FORMATION OF PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCE

S. Avhutska

The multicultural competence as a factor of professional and personal development of future teachers of history

The article presents the author's interpretation of the structure of the multicultural competence of future teacher of history. The influence of separate components of the multicultural competence on the professional and personal development of future teacher in the educational process of higher pedagogical establishment have been determined.

Key words: multicultural competence of teacher, components of the multicultural competence of future teacher of history, multicultural literacy.

N. Aniskina

Discourse competence within the practice training of student interpreters

This paper explores the concept of professional discourse competence and highlights the characteristics of a business letter as text and discourse. A concluding section shows that a business letter can be the basis for forming professional discourse competence.

Key words: professional competence, professional discourse competence, business letter, text, discourse.

O. Golik

Director's activity as an element of theatrical pedagogics

In the article director's activity as an element of theatrical pedagogics is opened and necessary methods of this element in preparation of the future teacher are defined namely the manifestation of sincerity and expressiveness, communication and interaction, the general patterns and dies, saving power and subordination of goals in the learning process. A number of educational courses based on the essential aspects of theater is presented.

Key words: future teacher, director, director's activity, theatrical pedagogics.

S. Dubyaga, Y. Shevchenko, L. Kuchina

Future teachers' training of elementary school for the development of pupils' thinking

This article is devoted to the technological providing of future teacher's training of elementary schools for the development of pupils' thinking.

Key words: future teacher's training, the development of pupils' thinking, the contents, forms and methods of work.

H. Ivaniy

The structure-functional model of formation of the future teacher's legal competence

The structure-functional model, which allows to specify and systematically present the semantic, judicial and supervisory aspects of legal preparation, directed on a teacher as a subject of legal relationships in the educational activity is offered in this article.

Key words: legal competence, legal knowledge, abilities and skills, professional teachers' preparation, personal and ethic-moral qualities of a teacher, design.

I. Kazanzhy

Formation of educational competence of elementary school future teachers in conditions of Euro integration

The article is devoted to the meaning of a competent approach in the future specialists' training under the conditions of Euro integration process.

Theory and methodology of the future teachers' professional training, the concept

«professionally-pedagogical competence», components of professional and educational competence of elementary school teachers are opened; criteria of the future teachers' preparedness to extracurricular educational work carrying out with younger pupils are shown in the article.

Key words: Euro integration, competent approach, educative competence, readiness to the educational work, extracurricular work.

I. Konovalchuk

The psychological aspects of the teachers readiness of to the innovative activities

The psychological aspects of the teachers readiness to innovation activity have been analyzed. It has been found out, that in the psychological aspect this integrative quality is connected with completeness of the personality structures, the restructuring of which would supply the successful creation and realization of innovations alongside with professional and personal self-realization of a teacher as a subject of the innovative activity.

Key words: readiness, psychological readiness, readiness for professional activity, the willingness to pedagogical activities, willingness to innovative activity.

J. Koteneva

Criteria of formation of professional identity of pedagogical college students

The article deals with the problem of empirical checkup the criteria of student's professional identity formation. The mathematical correlation-regretional dependence of formed profidently indicators is brought up for the experimental and controlled group.

Key words: career, professional career, empirical criteria, professional identity.

V. Makarchuk

Professional training of future teachers of labour study

The article is devoted to the problem of future teachers' training to organization of productive work of students of secondary school. Topical questions of professional training of teachers of labour study. The basic tasks of training future teachers of labor studies are outlined. The importance of the outlined problems is noted.

Key words: productive labour, interconnection of education and labour, politechnizm and projecting, professionalism, professional orientation.

V. Raskalinos

Reflexive competence as a component of the professional characteristics of the future specialist

The aim of the article is to identify the disclosure of the essence of the reflexive competence as a component of the professional characteristics of a specialist. In light of the competent approach the article presents the main ideas of researchers about the phenomenon of professional competence of a specialist, reveals the generalized view of its main constituent components. It is stressed the importance of reflexive as a component in each direction of the interpretation of professional competence. It is defined the correlation of reflexive competence with professional competence and reflexive culture taking into account scientific researches of reflexive competence of specialist. It is exposed the structural components of reflexive competence of future specialists, which include cognitive, operational and personal-motivational components.

Key words: professional competence, reflexive, reflexive competence, reflexive culture, the structural components of reflexive competence.

V. Tusheva

Axiological component of the scientific-research culture of future teachers

The article deals with some value priorities of the modern teacher-researcher. It was proved that the educational values guide his activities and determine the value of orientations.

Key words: research culture, values, educational values, axiological component, education, teacher, pupil.

S. Khomenko

The criteria and levels of professional competence of physical training

In the article different theoretical approaches to the concept of «professional competence» is considered and analyzed. Criteria and level of professional competence of the teacher of physical training are formed.

Key words: professional competence; conceptual competence; personal, functional, personality – active levels.

I. Shmigol

The essences and structure of the teacher professional competence

The article deals with the problem to the determination of essences and structure of teacher professional competence. The author analysed the different scientists' approaches to determination of the essences of the category «professional teacher competence» and his composition parts.

Key words: competence, teacher's professional competence.

S. Yakymenko, P. Yakymenko

Professional competence of the future teacher as a general condition of his pedagogical activities

The article deals with the formation of professional competence of teachers as the overall condition of their educational activities, the problem of future teachers training to the spiritual and moral education of schoolchildren, the problem of future teachers training in educational activities in the area of spiritual and moral education, axiological future teachers training in high school, a component of integrated teacher-variable model.

Key words: competence, pedagogical axiology, pedagogical models, spiritual and ethical education.

Z. Franczek

Model (image) of a teacher of primary school in the perspective of scientific literature and in the pupils' waiting

The author touches upon the problem of teacher's image in education. The historical development of pedagogical thought about profession of a teacher and his role in studying and upbringing of growing up generation since epoch of Old Greeks till XXI century is given in the article. Teacher's profession is disclosed as creative profession. Important peculiarities of a teacher of primary school and experimental data in the table and statistically-made form are given in the article.

Key words: teacher, pupil, teacher of primary school, teacher's image, characteristics of a teacher of primary classes.

EDUCATIONAL ASPECTS OF PREPARATION

O. Boyvan

The role of the word art in the aesthetic education of the future teachers

In the article is quoted the problem of the aesthetic education of the students of higher educational institutions, and displayed the influence of the art, in particular the word art on the aesthetic development of the future teacher's personality. The attention is paid to the importance of the language culture level in teacher's professional activity, and the role of the word art in its evolution as well.

Key words: aesthetic education, art, word art, aesthetic development of personality, book, language culture, higher school.

A. Bryll

Image of modern primary school teachers

The article deals with the formation of image of the primary school teacher, the concept of «image of a primary school teacher is clarified. The components and principles of image formation of teachers, the criteria, the typology of the image of a primary school teacher and professional levels of performance to create the image is described.

Key words: image, pedagogical imageology, the image of a primary school teacher, teaching activities.

L. Delingevich

The students' group teacher professional skill

The author makes an attempt to definite the main demands for the teachers organization of the higher students' upbringing activity of the I–II degrees of accreditation. The high level of professional skill is the most important teachers' demand. Only a person can educate a person. The students' group teacher is of great importance in their upbringing of moral values, social position. He helps to determine the plans for the future. The pedagogical skill is the complex of personal properties. The teachers' activity is mansided, humanistic and profound, it needs basic training.

Key words: education, moral culture, after-lesson educational work, a higher educational institution of I–II levels of accreditation.

E. Zhygulova

Analysis of the factors of the health way of future specialists' life in the sphere of the physical education, sport and human health

The future specialists' in the sphere of the physical education, sport and human health relation to the health way of life has been analyzed here. Possible ways of the professional education modernization in the sphere of the physical education and sport have been described here.

Key words: future specialists in the sphere of the physical education, sport and human health; health way of life; professional education.

I. Kovalchuk

Art as a mean of education world view of future elementary school teachers

The article describes the concept of ideological culture of personality, the significance of ideological culture as part of professional competence of elementary school teachers, the role of some arts, particularly literature and music, education for ideological culture of elementary school teachers and their influence on the professional training is considered. Recent studies on this problem are analysed.

Key words: ideological culture, art, elementary school teacher.

Yu. Kosteva

Forming of value potential of pedagogical professionalism of students of natural specialities

It is highlighted in the article that value potential teaching profession, the role of aksiosfery phenomenon as its system-base is grounded, its major features are disclosed, relationship with the culture of professionally-personal self and teacher methodological reflection in the development of potential pedagogical value of professionalism within the personality paradigm in the becoming and development of humanistic values of students.

Key words: pedagogical competence, professional competence, professional-pedagogical value, values system, functions of valued-content structures of personality, axiology potential of pedagogical professionalism.

K. Pavytska

Essence and structure of respect for child as moral of future teachers

The essence and structure of respect for child as moral is considered and theoretically proved in the article. The structural components of this quality are determined. They are cognitive, emotional-value and active. The author suggested his own definition of «respect for child». The importance of future teachers' upbringing of respectful relationships with children in educational process is accented on.

Key words: respect for child, upbringing, future teachers, structural components.

S. Tykhomyrov

Management by process of the forming valued orientation of students' establishments of humanitarian higher education

In presented article are considered process of pedagogical management in system of the high school. The component components of the process of management are analysed. The determination of the pedagogical process and its essence is given. In close-fitting interaction of the processes of the education and formation can be reached main purpose-shaping ценностных orientation to personalities. Great importance is spared to the process of the education, as one of the the most important element of the pedagogical process. On base of the analysis, the author offers its standpoint in respect of this pedagogical phenomena and gives the practical recommendations.

Key words: training and education process, management of teaching and educational process, an administrative situation.

O. Khmyzova

Forming and development of future primary school teachers' leader's position in university educational environment

The basic ways of forming and development of future primary school teachers' leader's position in university educational environment are presented in the article. In fact, it is the technology of forming of future primary school teachers' leader's position as part of their professional competence. The technology of forming of leader's position of students in out-of-school activity was designed and experimentally checked in university upbringing process. The program «Leader» was developed on principles of the personality-centered education.

Key words: leadership, leader's position, educational environment, professional competence, pedagogical technology.

THE PROFESSIONAL PREPARATION IN THE CONTEXT OF EUROINTEGRATION

E. Abil'tarova

Conceptual approaches to teaching of future engineers-teachers in the industry of labour protection

Conceptual approaches to teaching of future engineers-teachers of labour protection are considered and analysed in this article. It is set on the basis of analysis of scientific-pedagogical literature, that introduction of experimental method of teaching of future engineers-teachers of labour protection with the use of computer technologies must be carried out taking into account the system, personality oriented, technological, module approaches.

Key words: teaching method, engineer-teacher, conceptual approaches, method of teaching of labour protection, computer technologies.

N. Bodrug

The role of pedagogical skills in the conditions of realization of the Bologna Process

The functions, abilities, professional skills of the teacher; demands of the modern society, the Bologna process to professionalism of teacher are analysed in the article. It was found the essence and importance of pedagogical skills, her constituents. The opinions of teachers classics K. D. Ushinskiy and A. S. Makarenko are pointed of the problems of pedagogical skills. It is proved that the work on the educational field in modern conditions increasingly require teachers pedagogical skills.

Key words: pedagogical activity, pedagogical trade, pedagogical technique, the requirements for teacher, educational establishment, qualities of teacher.

V. Bulgakov, A. Shostak

Technology evaluation of education in a research university on the path to european integration

The problem of estimation of activity of scientist and pedagogical staff is constantly under control of rectorat of the National University of Life and Environmental Sciences of Ukraine. The main complexity in the solution of this problem was the search of a simple and accessible technique that would allow finding a formalistic approach to the humanitarian nature of scientific and pedagogical activity. The technique of definition of a rating of the scientific and pedagogical staff, developed on a new basis was developed and introduced in NULESU. The paper covers other aspects of quality management education, particularly the role of rating in harmonization of state standarts of education with foreign demands.

Key words: technique, rating estimation, academic load, scientific research, introduction, subject of estimation, object of estimation, structural division, state standards of education, international standards, harmonisation.

N. Kikina

Methods of credit-modular system in teaching students' professional foreign communication at the USA technical universities

The article deals with investigating the problem of methods of credit-modular system in teaching professional foreign communication at the USA technical universities; to the revealing its effective usage; to the revealing of necessity and actuality of USA experience usage in the process of credit-modular system methods realization in teaching professional foreign communication at the Ukrainian technical universities.

Key words: teaching method, credit-modular system, technical university, professional foreign communication, education, Bologna process.

I. Kukharchuk

The organization of students' individual work during the Ukrainian language (in the professional direction) in a credit-module system

The article contains the problems of organizing students' individual work in studying the Ukrainian language (in the professional direction) in credit-module system of training. It was noted that individual work should be seen not only as a method of teaching, but also an organization's form of educational activities, which form the skills of individual work activates the educational interests of students, encourages them to self-realization, developing creativity and professional speech of future specialists.

Key words: credit-module system of training, students' individual work, professional speech of students.

T. Pakhomova

The formation of a humane personality of the future primary school teachers extracurricular work in the university

The paper presents an analysis of new trends in theory of education, the formation of the pedagogical value of creativity as a priority component of the readiness of the future primary school teachers to the profession is revealed; new trends in pedagogy, theory of education, changing social conditions in which new generation is growing are analyzed; pedagogical conditions development of the creative potential of students on the basis of human pedagogy in extracurricular work are proposed.

Key words: extracurricular work, human pedagogy, human environment, progressive education, pedagogy of understanding.