

ANNOTATION

---

---

DIDACTICS AND METODICS

N. Avsievich

Creativity of teacher as condition of developing creative flairs of students in the process of working of folk tales on lessons of reading in initial classes

In the article influence of creativity of teacher is described on development of word-formation of students of initial classes in the process of study of the Ukrainian folk tale in the course of «Reading». The functions of the Ukrainian folk tale and condition of developing creative flairs are investigational by means of implementation of creative tasks the basic element of that is folklore text (fairy-tale).

Key words: pedagogical creativity, pedagogical work, word-formation, junior schoolchildren, Ukrainian folk tale, lessons of reading.

Y. Babiy

The culturologic way of approach to education of a future teacher of geography

The questions of the culturologic way of approach to professional education of a future teacher of Geography have been discussing in the article. The basic question of geographic, cartographic, environmental and cultural information. Geography as subjects, examined in the context of the formation of cultural identity. We study the motivation of students to the teaching profession, teaching-oriented student, ways and opportunities to guide and improve the cultural aspect.

Key words: the geographic culture, culture mapping, cartographic literacy, culturologic way of approach, the geographic thinking, the culture-valuable attitude, pedagogical orientation.

E. Baldyniuk

Future social workers professional communication as a subject: criteria forming

The article deals with the methodology grounds for training future social teachers for the pedagogical interaction with students and determining role of functions of culture are examined in this process. Also, the author reveals social and cultural criteria of formation of the teacher as a subject of professional communication. It is stressed that the culture of communication educator acts «tool» of the child's initiation of culture, with whom he introduces students to the world of culture.

Key words: pedagogical communication, functions of culture, social and cultural criteria.

T. Dolia

Forming healthy way of life of schoolchildren as actual task of professional activities of teachers

Determination of the concepts «health» and «healthy way of life» is analyzed in the article, considered directions of forming healthy way of life of schoolchildren in teaching and educational process, particularly on the lessons of valeology and physical training, in their out-ofclass activity. It is determined tasks for the pedagogical collective, concerning forming beliefs about healthy way of life of schoolchildren. It is well-proven that this work needs to be realized by joint efforts schools, families, representatives of public.

Key words: health, healthy way of life, schoolchildren, professional activity of teacher.

T. Ibragimov

Didactic terms of rational organization of independent work at study of descriptive geometry future engineers – by teachers

In the article possibility of creation of didactic terms is examined for rational organization of independent work of freshman on the stage of adaptation to the study of descriptive geometry.

Possibility of the use of innovative methods of teaching for the increase of creative activity of student and development of competence of future skilled bachelor is shown.

Key words: independent work, descriptive geometry, innovative methods.

O. Kozii

To the problem of formation vocal skills of future music teachers in the classroom of statement of the voice

The article brings up question associated with the formation of vocal skills of future teachers of music at the vocal classes. Considered methods which are necessary for the formation of this creation and generally professional skills of future music teachers.

Key words: teacher of music, methods of vocal development, vocal abilities and skills.

O. Muzyka

Goal-oriented and creative activity of the future fine art teacher as the basis of personal development

The article is dedicated to actual problem of modern higher pedagogical education: the role of creative activity in personal development of future fine art teachers. The role of the teacher in the process of activation of creative activity, motivation development to self-development, self-improvement and self-realization is described.

Key words: goal-orientation, motivation, creative activity, personal development, future fine art teachers.

I. Radchenko

The use of system-informative approach at development of aids train

The author reviews the main approaches to the development of modern textbooks. The analyzed model of the manual, the requirements for the content of textbooks, the basic characteristics of the structure and performance as a teaching tool. Exposed bases and information system approach.

Key words: System-information approach, study guide, figures as a textbook.

T. Rogova

The problem of teacher's personality personalization in the scientific literature

The point of the personalization conception is examined in the article; on the basis of the analysis of scientific literature the prerequisites of success of personalization of teacher's personality are substantiated.

Key words: personalization, personalization of the teacher, prerequisites of success of the teacher's personalization.

Z. Syrota, V. Syrota

Essence of readiness of future teachers is to teaching of computer-integrated courses at initial school

Integration as one of leading methodological principles of modern education is examined in the article. Essence of concept «forming of readiness» and ways of preparation of future teachers is investigated to teaching of computer-integrated courses at initial school. Outlined creative properties of midchildhood. Maintenance is exposed, sweep and task of computer-integrated educational objects «Art» and «Technical and artistic labour», both for a midchildhood and for the effective professional becoming of future teachers of initial classes.

Key words: professional readiness, pedagogical activity, integration.

T. Torbina

Professionally important qualities of the modern specialist's personality

The article deals with the external and internal conditions of formation of a professional. We propose a characterization of personal and professional qualities of the future specialist electrical systems. Marked preconditions of professionalism of the future specialist.

Key words: personal qualities, professional orientation, training process, training.

V. Chornous

Creative capabilities of personality: determination, nature, structure

In the article the basic approaches to the study of concept of creative capabilities are analysed, features of their development are described, the different aspects of creative capabilities are exposed: nature of origin, structural components, factors of influence, intercommunication with an intellect and other properties of man. It is found, that creative capabilities are totality of properties and personal characters of personality.

Key words: creative capabilities, creative process, creativity, creative activity.

NEW TECHNOLOGIES

E. Beleiptseve

The technology of preparation social pedagogues for the preservation reproductive function in family

This article deals with questions technology of preparation social pedagogues for the preservation reproductive function in family. In the article considered the technological component of the works from family this category.

Key words: preparation, social pedagogues, technological reproductive function.

A. Veremchuk

Innovative educational activity of the modern teacher of initial classes

The article deals with the concept of «innovation». Covered entity, the criteria and the contradictions of the modern teacher readiness to innovative educational activities in the elementary grades. The basic directions of innovation activity of primary school and held a brief introduction to modern educational technologies that are already used in the learning process in secondary schools.

Key words: innovation, innovative technologies, innovative educational activities, innovative educational technology, educational technology in elementary school.

A. Gritchenko

Lecturer in the system of professional preparation of the future technology education teacher

The article highlights the pedagogical activity content of the HEE lecturer in the system of professional preparation of the future technology education teacher. The lecturer's role and place in fulfilling the basic pedagogical tasks to activate students' educational, cognitive, scientific, creative and independent activity on productive level that helps to develop future teacher's confidence in fast adaptation to pedagogical work in general school educational environment is specified.

Key words: higher educational establishment, lecturer, pedagogical activity, the professional preparation system, future technology education teacher.

L. Zubchenko

Formation of pedagogical creativeness of future physical training teachers while using of creative tasks

Potential possibilities of student teaching in a context of forming of pedagogical creativeness of the future teachers of physical education are considered. In research the data of questionnaire of the future teachers of physical education concerning the student teaching organization at school is used. It is proved that applied creative assignments which the future teachers of physical education should solve in student teaching hat encourage students to active creative work, develop creativity, professional orientation and personal interest.

Key words: future teacher of physical education, creation, activation, goals.

V. Ishchenko

Pedagogical technologies are in higher educational establishment

This article exposes essence of pedagogical technologies in the conditions of socio-economic progress on the whole and transformations in to uchebno-vospitatel'nomu process in particular. The structure of readiness of teacher to innovative pedagogical activity and motive forces which predetermine this process is examined.

Key words: pedagogical technologies, module-developing studies, innovative pedagogical activity, motivational readiness, pedagogical creation.

H. Martyniuk

The usade of Internet-tehnologies in the process of future humanities teacher treaning

The article deals with the problem of usage the possibilities of Intrnet-tehnologies for future humanities teachers training needs. The main advantages of their us are underlines achievement of educational deals with the least spend of time, the possibility of creating of interactive educational material, modeling studying processes and phenomenon's, the organization of conditions for studying nark, the control and correction of knowledge levee and quality of students sullyng nark.

Key words: future humanities teacher training, Intrnet-tehnologies, teachers information culture.

V. Onipko

Technological basis of preparation of future teacher natural sciences to the profession in specialized schools

The article considers the technological basis of the process of training future teachers of natural sciences to the profession in profile school. We study theoretically and obhruntuvuyetsya use of innovative technologies in higher education teaching and z'yasuvano specific formation of professional readiness of teachers to teach natural sciences in high school profile.

Key words: higher education teaching, innovative educational technologies, the future teacher of natural sciences, school profile, the map of professional readiness of teachers.

M. Tadeyeva

Modern innovative computer technologies in school foreign laguages education

The article deals with modern innovative computer technologies in foreign languages education of school children. Analysis of the most effective of them are used in the process of reforming school foreign languages education in Ukraine and Russia. Review of modern technologies and innovative methods of teaching foreign languages allows to distinguish computer technology as an innovative and effective form of intensive training in modern foreign languages.

Key words: innovative technologies, foreign languages, computer training, internet technology.

THE FORMATION OF PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCE

N. Aleksandrova

Interdependence between teacher's governance competence and governance culture

The article examines different approaches to defining the essence of a teacher's competence. The essence and content of governance skills and governance culture are identified. The author focuses on the interdependence between the governance competence and governance culture as an attributive characteristic of teacher's personality.

Key words: teacher's governance competence, teacher's governance culture, governance skills, governance competencies.

L. Voitova

Forming of the ecological culture of the future social teachers in higher pedagogical educational establishment

Education of future social pedagogues ecological culture as a complex of personal formation was discovered. Conditions of future specialist's ecological culture formation in the educational process in higher pedagogical institution were described. The main ways of ecological component realization in the process of social workers professional training were defined.

Key words: ecological culture, environmental training, environmental education, educational process, social pedagogue.

A. Volosenko

Competence approach to psychology-pedagogical preparation of teachers in economic university

The article examines the importance and role of competence approach to psychology-pedagogical preparation of future teacher of economics. On the basis of science recourses' analysis the author identifies the essence of teacher's professional competence. The content and peculiarities of psychology-pedagogical preparation of future teacher of economics are analyzed.

Key words: competence approach to psychology-pedagogical preparation of future teacher of economics, teacher's professional competence, of psychology-pedagogical preparation of future teacher of economics.

E. Zadorozhna

The formation of ecological convictions of pedagogical universities students by means of environmental work

In the article the problem of the formation of ecological convictions of pedagogical universities students was considered. The analysis of psychological and pedagogical literary sources of this problem was conducted. Psychological and pedagogical conditions of ecological convictions of pedagogical universities students by means of environmental work were explained.

Key words: ecological convictions, environmental work, means of environmental work.

L. Korobovych

Creation of theoretical models pedagogical monitoring in higher education

The article features the use of monitoring technology in pedagogy that considers the monitoring of two positions: as a system for collecting, processing and storing information about the educational system and as a means of information in the process of scientific investigation or of management control (toolkit assessment system) and offer theoretical model of pedagogical monitoring in high school.

Key words: monitoring, monitoring technology, educational system monitoring.

A. Maksjutov

The principles and methods of patriotic cultivating of the future teachers of geography

The main principles, methods and methodical technologies of patriotic cultivating of the future teachers of geography are investigated in the article. Such groups of patriotic cultivating as the methods of direct training influence, indirect training influence and selftraining have been analyzed.

Key words: patriotic cultivating; principle; method.

O. Timets

Priority areas teacher training geographer abroad

This article provides an analysis of the priorities of training future teachers of geography abroad. Determined that in most countries the basis of geography teacher training is competence, which develop by increasing geographic and cultural formation of scientific geographical picture of the world. The presence of the integration of teacher education in the European educational space, which determines the need for the study of foreign systems of education that helped identify the positive and negative aspects of foreign experience and criteria to distinguish from the introduction of foreign experience in national geographic education.

Key words: training, education abroad, the competence of a teacher of geography, the model of teacher training, national peculiarities of geographical education.

THE HISTORY OF PEDAGOGICAL EDUCATION

V. Balakhtar

The scientific and methodical support of organisation children's and teenager's leisure in out-of-school departments (1960–1991)

The author of the article deals with the actual problems about scientific and methodical support of organisation children's and teenager's leisure in out-of-school departments (1960–1991). Various forms of methodical work is being shown up as the main way of the rising of the teacher's qualification and quality of education, training and organisation the children's leisure.

Key words: leisure, scientific and methodological support, teaching reading, conferences, forms of the methodical work.

I. Budz

Practical experience of Great Britain in identifying gifted and talented students

Basic theoretical fundamentals of gifted and talented students identification and their main characteristics which schools of Great Britain follow are analyzed in this article. We study the practical experience of implementing the identification process over the past decades, namely key methods and requirements for the formation of a common school education policy for this category of students. The modern practical approaches to communicating and informing parents, students and teachers have been presented.

Key words: gifted and talented students, identification of gifted and talented students, methods of identification, register of gifted and talented students.

V. Volikova

Role of student's clubs in the organization of leisure of student's youth USSR in the twenties the XX centuries

On the basis of studying of a wide range of sources in article the question of the organization of leisure of student's youth of USSR in the twenties the XX centuries is taken up. Features of formation of new generation of the Soviet students, a problem of the organization of rational leisure of student's youth are displayed. The role of student's clubs and club associations in formation of the identity of the young specialist is established.

Key words: leisure, student's youth, club, club associations.

T. Kiryan

The peculiarities of activity of medical scientific schools of academicians O. O. Bohomolets, M. D. Strazhesko, V. P. Filatov (the 2nd part of the XX century)

This article reveals the preconditions of origination and the peculiarities of activity of medical scientific schools of academicians O. O. Bohomolets, M. D. Strazhesko, V. P. Filatov in Ukraine in the 2nd part of the XX century. Great attention paid to the analyses of investigations and inventions of medical scientists in different spheres of medicine and their influence to the development of modern medical science. The principals of academician's works studied by the students and young investigators.

Key words: scientific school, scientific investigations, theoretical and clinical medicine, experiment, student, scientific works.

S. Marchuk

Kostyantyn Ushynskyi about the scientific-practical approaches to the teachers' preparation to the physical education of schoolchildren (on the basis of materials of «The programme in pedagogics for women educational establishments»)

The pedagogical maintenance of professional preparation of the future specialists to the solving of important tasks of physical education of schoolchildren on the basis of study of scientific works of K. Ushynskyi is grounded in the article. The effective ways, means and terms of physical education of schoolchildren while studying the course of pedagogics in women educational establishments of the second half of XIX century in Russia are defined.

Key words: preparation of a teacher, physical education, pedagogics, K. Ushynskyi, women educational establishments, listener.

T. Pakhomova

Ways of implementation the tutors' education system abroad

The article focuses on the implementation experience tutors' education system in Ukraine and abroad, new analyzed trends in pedagogy, theory of education, changed social conditions in which a new generation grows; proposed pedagogical conditions of creativity based on student use of technology tutors' support.

Key words: tutor, tutor support, pedagogical support.

A. Prikhodko

Activity of pupil circles and association of gymnastic orientation in schools of Ukraine in the late XIX – early XX centuries

In this article, based on a study of sources in the late XIX – early XX centuries, have been studied and summarized the organizational framework, the experience of the first pupil organizations, athletic orientation in the secondary schools of Ukraine. Premises of origin, contents, forms and conditions of work have been covered here. There are some initiatives that can serve as a model for the modern school practice.

Key words: physical education, middle school, pupil circle, association, sports team.

O. Tkachuk

The peculiarities of communicative method of teaching foreign languages in the secondary schools in Poland

The article deals with the peculiarities in the use of foreign language communicative competence in the schools of the Polish Republic. The concept of communicative competence is defined and the main features of the communicative method which are implemented in practice are outlined. The typical communicative exercises are considered. The criteria for evaluation of difficulty of communicative exercises are studied.

Key words: communicative competence, foreign language education, communicative method.

THE PROFESSIONAL PREPARATION IN THE CONTEXT OF EUROINTEGRATION

N. Kovalevska

Features work home educator with younger school students who have learning difficulties

This article discusses the problem of learning difficulties in children of junior schoolage. The author gives the characteristic education junior school, illuminates the complications their reasons, correctional work, offers a plan for eliminating them. Home is the place and the role of educator in the process of diagnosing and removing the difficulties in learning.

Key words: learning difficulties, failure, dezadaptaciâ, Home Educator.

I. Nikolayesku

Akmeological approach development professional image of modern pedagogue in after-diploma education

The ideal of the society of a modern pedagogue is closely connected with the formation and development by a specialist of his or her own positive image. The article of acmeological approach shaping which introducing of development of professional image in after-diploma education. The conditions development of professional image of pedagogues in after-diploma education are investigated.

Key words: acmeology, acmeological approach, after-diploma education, professional image, modern pedagogue.

S. Ponomarevskyi

Religious tolerance and multicultural dialogue forming by means of education and their presence in the valuable coordinates system with reference to multicultural society (taking ukrainians in Russia as an example)

The peculiarities of religious tolerance and multicultural interaction as the components of appreciative orientations system, taking as an example their practical usage and their forming by educational means in Ukrainian schooling within Russian Federation, are analyzed in the article. Moreover, some other components, included in the appreciative system, which are important for this system's forming in the multicultural society, are touched. For instance, interethnic tolerance, mutual understanding and some other. The necessity of axiological components' forming in Russia according to the international, those accepted by everybody, documents and declarations are observed.

Key words: education, national, values, foreign.