

ANNOTATION

DIDACTICS AND METODICS

A. Breslavskaya

The forming of students' leisure culture by means of extracurricular project activity

The article deals with the problems of forming the students' leisure culture by means of project work in extracurricular activity. The process of forming the students' culture of leisure activity of pedagogical institutes is researched. The properties of the project work during extracurricular activities and the readiness of students and teachers for this kind of work are revealed.

Key words: culture, leisure, free time, extracurricular activity, project work.

L. Voznyuk

Pedagogical circumstances of future music teachers to educate teenagers using of bell-ringing art

The article reveals the pedagogical circumstances of bell-ringing usage in the system of future music teacher preparation which provide the high level of teacher's readiness to realisation of bell-ringing potential. The revealing criteria of teachers' education in bell-ringing branch are considered. The results of constative experiment are given.

Key words: pedagogical circumstances, future teacher of music, bell-ringing art, professional preparation.

G. Galkina

Typology of future language and literature teachers' professional-cognitive skills

Research relevance lies in the necessity of classification of future language and literature teachers' professional-cognitive skills. The article defines the language and literature teachers' professional competency and its components, offers the typology of professional-cognitive skills, defines their place in the structure of future language and literature teachers' competency and states the conditions of their forming.

Key words: professional competency, language and literature teacher, typology, structure of competency, professional-cognitive skills.

N. Grytsai

Pedagogical practice as mean of formation of the future biology teachers methodical competence

The meaning of pedagogical practice in the system of the future teachers methodical training is substantiated in the article. The discrepancies and drawbacks in organization and conduction of the students' pedagogical practice in higher educational establishments are defined. The methods of pedagogical practice improvement in the context of the future biology teachers methodical competence are proposed.

Key words: future biology teachers, method of biology training, methodical training, methodical competence, pedagogical practice, individual methodical style.

O. Demchenko

Generalprofessional functions of self-organization of teacher

In the article the cognitive, labour, cooperative and developing generalprofessional functions of teacher's self-organization are picked out and characterized, and also the extensive, approximate, compensatory, self-developing, methodological, communicative, creative, rejuvenative, psychotherapeutic, gerontological methods of their accomplishment are defined.

Key words: self-organization, teacher, generalprofessional function.

T. Ibragimov, G. Ibragimova

About didactic terms of professional preparation of higher school teacher to activity in the system of distance teaching

In the article the elements of innovative methods are examined promoting efficiency of individual work of student of extra-mural form of teaching. Marketability videoinformatsii created by us is shown as multimedia of appendixes to the didactic complex at the extra-mural form of teaching.

Key words: independent work, extra-mural form of teaching, innovative methods.

S. Kovalyova

Conceptional principles of school art education integration

Conceptional principles of school art education integration in the context of pedagogics of art are discovered in the article. Theory and practice of using of integrated relations in studying art in the process of fulfilling the content of universal art education has been explained.

Key words: school art education, integration, integrated relations, art, synthesis, the process of synthesis, analogy, means of expressiveness, artistic image.

V. Melash, J. Shishkina

Methodical preparation of the future teachers of elementary school to ecological mentality

The authors present the information about the pedagogical technology of the permanent ecological education in the system: school-university; about organizing the student scientific laboratory «Ecological Education for the permanent development» at Melitopol State Pedagogical University Bogdan Khmelnytsky by name.

Key words: ecological thinking, pedagogical technology continuing environmental education, curriculum, student research laboratory «Environmental Education for Sustainable Development».

K. Musaiev

Problematic education as an instrument of cognitive activity of the future teacher

Concepts «problematic education», «problematic situation» considered in the research work of scientists. Essential characteristics of learning problems and level of problem in the educational process, their structural and functional analysis are determined in this article. Problematic education researched as didactic principles, didactic status of the problematic education established, is it different from the traditional type of training.

Key words: problematic education, technical thinking, the principle activity in education, mental and cognitive activity of the individual, problem-learning task, problematic situation.

T. Oleksenko, V. Molodychenko

Methodical approach to future teachers preparing for the Nature Study training

The article discusses peculiarities of the basic and methodical training of the future primary school teachers. The list of academic disciplines required for the teacher's competence formation in the field of Nature Study is attached. The correlation of the future teachers training requirements to the primary education state standards are analyzed. New technologies usage and museum education are shown.

Key words: teachers' competence, Nature Study, primary school, methodical approach, museum education.

S. Radchenko

Value of music perception in the formation of harmonic hearing of future music teachers

The article deals with the training of future music teachers on the basis of formation of the musical ear. It focuses on the role of emotional and imaginative perception as a way to enrich the emotional and auditory analysis skills of the future professional, as an important component of the harmonic form of hearing the music of the future teachers in the study of music theory courses.

Key words: harmonic hearing, music perception, musically-listening imagination, listening image, phonism, functional connections, voiceleading.

L. Ryabovol

Study of theoretical jurisprudential material and formation legal concept

The article analyzes the theoretical study of the developed techniques jurisprudential material; installed and grounded logic of the process of learning the steps of forming the right concepts; described the stages of formation of legal concepts, the basic techniques of thinking on each of them; identified the role of perception in the first stage, awareness, understanding and summarizing – second, the use – in the third.

Key words: theoretical jurisprudential material, legal concepts, stages of formation of legal concepts, perception, awareness, understanding, synthesis, use.

I. Shcherbak

The problem of preparation of future music master to civil education of pupils

In the article are considered the basic problems of forming of readiness of future music masters to realization of civil education of pupils; is certain the role of pedagogical terms in providing of effective preparation of future music masters to realization of civil education of pupils; are investigational the basic constituents of civil competence of future music master.

Key words: future music masters, civil education, civil competence, pedagogical conditions.

NEW TECHNOLOGIES

G. Bondar

Innovative technologies, forms, methods and tools of the forming the future teachers' humanistic outlook in the process of philological disciplines studying

In the article innovative technologies, forms, methods and tools of the forming the future teachers' humanistic outlook in the process of philological disciplines studying (educational situations; problem situations; the dialogue; individual and collective conversations; the discussion; the annotation; the oversight; the express-questioning; the generalization of independent descriptions; the analysis of ukrainian and foreign texts with the support of principles of humanistic pedagogics) were substantiated.

Key words: innovative technologies, forms, methods and tools, the forming the future teachers' humanistic outlook, the process of philological disciplines studying.

N. Gorbatyuk

Innovative technology for teaching chemical discipline cycle

The article deals with current issues concerning the teaching of chemical sciences cycle using innovative technologies. Oharakteryzovuyutsya technology problem-based education, design technology in the light of person-centered teaching and reveals their importance in the educational process with the aim of optimizing the consolidation and assimilation of knowledge and skills in chemistry.

Key words: innovative technology, learner-oriented education, problem-based education technology, design technology.

S. Dubyaga, J. Shevchenko, V. Guz

Technology of competence creativity of primary school teachers

The article explores the possibility of formation of the creative competence of students, the features of learning tasks and pedagogical situations as a means of creative competence of future primary school teacher, brought the potential effectiveness of all disciplines and types of pedagogical practices in the formation of creative expertise.

Key words: primary school teachers, competence, forming a creative competence, pedagogical situation.

M. Isaeva

Socialization as a primary teacher's task in the classroom educational environment

This article examines theoretical aspects of socialization, the specificity of its course among primary school students. The article elicits primary teacher's tasks which are connected with the process of socialization. The author suggests some ways of creation of positive educational environment in the classroom that may become a stimulus for a quick and effective process of the child socialization in primary school.

Key words: socialization, educational environment, teacher's tasks, a primary school teacher.

I. Karapuzova

Theoretical basis of the technology organization of the future teachers pedagogical support of teaching

This article discusses the technology organization to support teaching of future teachers in the learning process, which is based on the ideas of student-centered, activity, resource, competence and provides a phased approach (preparatory, activity, analytical steps) the interaction of teacher and student, by integrating the methods and means of organizing the process training aimed at improving its efficiency and to achieve planned results.

Key words: organization, future teacher, stages of pedagogical support.

I. Kuzmina

Innovative technology training program in the classroom ukrainian literature in high school

The article reviews a variety of ways to improve foreign language classes. Outlines the properties of innovative teaching and dissemination of new vehicles (novoveden) and the result of creative search of original, innovative solution transactions various educational problems.

Key words: effective teaching methods, interactive lesson, innovation, lecture, discussion, debate.

E. Postylnaya

Nature and scope of training teachers to use information and communication technologies in the spiritual and moral education students

The article reveals the specifics of the nature and content of the training of future teachers to use information and communication technologies in the process of spiritual and moral upbringing of students, which should be built taking into account several methodological approaches-axiological, andragogical system that defines some of the structural components – goals, means and results of the study. The author analyzes the main components of this process.

Key words: education, future teachers, information and communication technology.

S. Yakimenko

Preparing of future primary school teachers for using the technology of creating «the situation of success»

The article deals with the preparation of future primary school teachers for using the technology of creating «the situation of success» as a necessary condition of person-oriented education.

Key words: «the situation of success» educational environment, success, teacher, student.

THE FORMATION OF PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCE

T. Bondarenko

Defining the content, structure and stages of forming would be biology teachers' methodical competence

Theoretical approaches to defining the content and structure of would be biology teachers' methodical competence are investigated in the article. Teacher's methodical competence is considered as integrative quality, which includes cognitive, emotional and valuable as well as activity and practical components, each of which is characterized by the proper indexes. The levels of forming would be biology teachers' methodical competence are singled out.

Key words: professional competence, methodical competence, teacher of biology.

E. Goncharuk

Linguistic competence – integral part in the formation of the professional competence of the future primary school teachers

In the article the problems of the linguistic competence as the integral part in the teacher's professional competence, the role of the teachers' linguistic competence in the all-sided developed personality of the primary schoolchildren are studied.

The language competence level of the pedagogical high school students is analysed and the theoretical approaches to the solution of the problem as to the braking of the linguistic-communicative rightness.

Key words: linguistic competence, language competence, rightness of the speech.

A. Evsyukov

Process of professional engineers future orientation of teachers

The article deals with the mechanisms of professional orientation of future engineers and teachers. based on the analysis of various studies. submitted with the formation of a professional orientation in the form of models, and understanding the driving forces of the professional orientation of the organization determined the future engineers and educators.

Key words: professional orientation, the engineer-teacher organization activities.

V. Koval'

Communicative competence as a one of key concepts of linguodidactics

The article concerns the problem of forming communicative competence, analyzes the views of researchers entity concept «communicative competence», clarified its cognitive components, mechanisms of interaction between them, the ways of its formation.

Key words: communicative competence, communication skills, language personality, speech activity.

T. Kremeshna

The question of professional competence future teachers of music

The article examines whether professional competence of future teachers of music and meaning of this formation in the process of educational activities. The author discusses the necessary knowledge and skills of future teachers, musicians, as components of their professional competence. Defined the issue of self-actualization, as a prerequisite for the successful development of a teacher.

Key words: competence of teachers, professional knowledge, skills, self-actualization.

L. Petrenko

Informative and analytical competence of leaders of vocational training establishments as socially-pedagogical problem

The author's researching of information and analytical competence as modern tools increase the effectiveness of managerial influence on the quality of training of skilled workers has revealed areas for further scientific intelligence.

Key words: the informative and analytical competence; the vocational training establishments; the informative and analytical providing; leaders; the globalization processes.

N. Khmil, S. Dyachenko

The formation of skills for effective use of blogs for future teachers of preschool education

The article disclosed the method of using social networking services in the training of future teachers for the formation of students' skills in effective use of blogs in the profession. Determined that the teacher's transition to a level of participants in the network community will enable the efficient use of network servers Web 2.0 in professional activity.

Key words: blog, social network services, training of future teachers of preschool education.

THE HISTORY OF PEDAGOGICAL EDUCATION

A. Belesta

Historical background of national and cultural traditions of «foreign» perception in the multicultural education paradigm

The article presents an experience of the analysis of national and cultural traditions background of «foreign» perception in the East Slavic culture which were embodied in the Kyiv Rus existence epoch as it was reflected in Old Russian written heritage, folklore and folk speech. The evolution of ancient Russian writers ideas about Tatar people and their influence on the collective forming of Slavs consciousness was examined. Development of ideas has the vectorial direction to present and shows the basic features of the multicultural education process.

Key words: the opposition «native – foreign», ethnocultural concept, etnopedagogical concept, multicultural education.

A. Butsenko

Create an ideological and patriotic «funny» shelves and their importance in the development of physical education of youth south of Ukraine in the beginning of the XX century

The article discusses the origins of creation, the methodological foundations of education and experience of young people in the «amusing shelves» in the south of Ukraine. We analyze the value of patriotic-military movement in the development of physical education in the early XX century. The characteristics of some certain features of this fact, due to socio-economic, political, military and cultural development of the country.

Key words: «funny», physical education, beginning of the XX century.

O. Gudovsek

Genesis of the formation of aesthetic education of primary school pupils in the schools of artistic and aesthetic direction in Ukraine

The article examined the history of aesthetic education of primary school children in educational institutions of artistic and aesthetic direction, characterized by regulations in the field of aesthetic education of children, the content, forms and methods to do with children of primary school age in educational institutions of artistic and aesthetic direction.

Key words: aesthetic education, institutions of art and aesthetic direction, younger students, forms, methods of work with aesthetic education

L. Zelenskaya

The role and place of academic councils in proceedings of domestic universities first quarter XIX century

In the article we considered the system of legal proceedings which was established in the domestic universities in the first quarter of XIX century; we gave the description of plenary powers of Rector and Governing in the judgment on the basis of the analysis of clauses of Charter of 1804; we defined the place and role of academic senate which has the status of «higher authorities» in the structure of University Administration, in the realization of judicial function of high school.

Key words: legal proceedings, universities, Rector, Governing, academic councils.

O. Kin

Organizatsiya of students of public higher education institutions in Ukraine in the 20 years of XX century

The article considers the nature and character of the social activities of students of higher educational institutions of Ukraine of 20 years of the twentieth century. The characteristic managing formation of a new generation of Soviet students as a social phenomenon. The basic form of social work and public areas of the students. The analysis of characteristics of the student movement in the social study period.

Key words: students, social work, development.

H. Mikhnevych

Social and territorial approach to multicultural education in France in the 1980's: the policy of «Priority Education Zones»

The article deals with social and territorial approach to multicultural education in France in the 1980 s. It studies and describes the policy of «Priority Education Zones», which profoundly influenced the development of the education of immigrants and the establishment of multicultural assimilation within French society. The article also outlines the features of the usage of this policy and its main components.

Key words: multicultural education, assimilation, policy of «Priority Education Zones».

L. Orekhova

Originality of elucidative-pedagogical activity Kh. D. Alchevskoy

Elucidative-pedagogical activity of Kh. D. Alchevskoy, its originality. The terms of forming of its own system of world view are analysed, that enabled it realized in a creative plan to a full degree. The types of activity are examined, such, as: artistic-stage, pedagogical, public, publicism, domestic-educate, – through which it carried a culture and national educational ideas people.

Key words: public-educational activity, sunday-schools, pedagogical diaries, Ukrainian idea.

Y. Pocheniuk

Content of the european bilingual models: from theory to practice

The article deals with the main models of the bilingual education (the trilingual education system in the school of the Grand Duchy of Luxemburg, multilingual education in the network of European Schools, the Foyer Project in Brussels), their theoretical peculiarities; practical aspects of the bilingual projects' functioning are analyzed in order to use them further; potential and perspectives of the bilingual projects' development are outlined.

Key words: bilingual education, multilingual training system, bilingual projects, linguistic competency.

T. Razumenko

The participation of faculty councils of universities of Ukraine in the organization of educational process in terms of the regulation of 1863

The range of powers of faculty councils of universities of Ukraine for the realization of educational function in the period of action of the regulation of 1863 is described; the level of independence of latter in the solution of educational issues and ways of collaboration with other administrative structures are determined; the practice of work of faculty councils of universities of Kharkiv, Kyiv, Novorossiysk in this area is covered.

Key words: faculty council, regulation, organization, education.

R. Daria

Phenomenon of intercultural communication in the context of pedagogical education development

Questions, related to determination of concept «intercultural communication» and introduction of foreign languages courses into Ukrainian schools since the epoch of Kievan Rus are investigated on the basis of analysis of historical and pedagogical literature. The author characterizes the necessity of mastering foreign languages in the historical aspect and in a present-day Ukraine.

Key words: intercultural communication, bilinguism and polylinguism, teaching foreign languages, classical languages, modern European languages, Brotherhood school, gymnasium.

S. Tsimbal-Slatvinska

Age and individual characteristics of personality development: history of problem

The article is devoted to the disclosure of the problem of periodization age and individual characteristics of the personality on the basis of publications in the magazine «Soviet pedagogy». It refers to the importance of research by psychologists and pedagogues age characteristics of primary school age children, adolescents, adults and the impact of these features on the processes of mental education.

Key words: intellectual development, mental training, individual characteristics, thinking, psychophysiological dynamics, psychical development, intelligence.