

ANNOTATION

DIDACTICS AND METODICS

N. Andriichuk

Training teachers music art

The paper addresses the main issues of music in secondary schools, based on the basis of general didactic principles, methods and techniques of musical education, and various forms of after-hour time limit, and the educational process, methods of joint activity of the teacher and students.

Key words: music education, music pedagogy, methods and technique of music education, music, art.

G. Ahmetzhanova, A. Bogdanova

Finding quality education as an important component of high school

The article deals with key issues of quality control of education at the university, as well as external and internal factors that determine the principles and methods of quality management.

Key words: quality management, quality of education, quality diagnostics.

A. Bogdanova, G. Ahmetzhanova

Performance evaluation system of quality management in information and communication SPACE UNIVERSITY

This article contains mathematical tools for diagnosing and assessing the effectiveness of quality management education in high school using modern technology. Quality management system is considered in the context of information and communication space of the university.

Key words: quality management of education, information technology, performance evaluation systems.

T. Kachak

Training of Students Majoring in Primary Education for Implementation of Goals, Contents and Tasks of Literary Education at Primary School

The article deals with the main aspects of future teachers' training for organizing the learning activities at the Reading and Home Reading classes; with the solution to the problem of developing the literary competence of primary school students. The contents of the educational material and the peculiarities of the course «Primary School Students' Literary Education» have been analyzed. The competence oriented mode of teaching students has been emphasized.

Key words: literary education, literary competence, the competence oriented mode of teaching.

G. Kobernyk

Elementary school future teachers training for individualization of pupils instruction

Organizing and pedagogical conditions of professional training of elementary school future teachers for teaching individualization have been proved in the article. In particular it is described the way of student acquisition of methodology of instrumental material adapting to the levels of pupils educational competence at different stages of its studying.

Key words: teacher training, individualization, adaptation, elementary schoolchildren.

T. Kotyk

The goal of preparing students for teaching younger school-children of Ukrainian languages lingvo-didactic problem

The lingvo-didactic interpretation of society demands to readiness of primary school teachers to teach their children their native language is scientific ally grounded, the trendsetter development of goal-setting process of preparing future teachers are revealed.

Key words: the goal of preparing students, goal-setting trends, lingvo-didactic.

O. Kocherga

Using Business Game at the Process of Forming of Social Responsibility of Future teachers of Primary School

The author of the article examines the main theoretical and methodological approaches to using of business game at the process of forming of social responsibility of students of the pedagogical college. Te author reveals characteristics, structure, methodology of organization and holding of business game; offers experience of introducing of the game at the process of training of future teachers of primary school.

Key words: social responsibility, business game, professional training, teacher of primary school.

L. Pet'ko

The Ways of Formation of Foreign Language Socio-Cultural Competence of Students of Music-Pedagogical Specialties in High School in the Process of Professional Teaching

The article describes a process of teaching of students of music-pedagogical faculties studying foreign literature in the professional way.

Key words: foreign language, teaching, students, culture, music-pedagogical faculties, foreign literature

Y. Pylynskyy

Multicultural education as a factor in attracting children of immigrants into society (USA experience)

As multiculturalism means support and preservation of diversity, it should be balanced with other efforts, aimed to consolidation of the whole nation. First of all united educational, informational and cultural space should be created; it is vital to support patriotic upbringing and civic society development, and create linguistic consensus, as well as to expand to the whole society same social and political values.

Key words: education, multiculturalism, immigrants.

E. Togobetskaya

Formation of elementary mathematical concepts younger schoolchildren

In school practice many teachers achieve from pupils of learning of definitions of concepts and the knowledge of their basic proved properties demands. However results of such training are usually insignificant. It occurs because the majority of pupils, applying the concepts acquired at school, pupils lean against the unimportant signs, essential signs of concepts realise and reproduce only at the answer to the questions demanding definition of concept. Often pupils unmistakably reproduce concepts, that is find out knowledge of its essential signs, but put this knowledge into practice cannot, lean against those casual signs allocated thanks to a first-hand experience. Process of mastering of concepts it is possible to operate, form them with the set qualities.

Key words: mathematical concepts, absolute concepts, relative concepts, definitions.

A. Hekalo

The influence of music on the formation of a future musician

The article discusses the basic aspects of music, its role in the life and history of the musician; scientific hypotheses about the origin of music. The emphasis is on musical elements of various styles and their combination with other types of work. Based on a comprehensive analysis of the author defines the category of art and their relationship with music.

Key words: music, art, music, art, folk music.

M. Hekalo

Peculiarities of instructional activities of the future music teachers

The article is dedicated to covering issues of organizing instructional activities of the future music teachers. In particular, it describes the conditions given the close link with the teaching practice profession future specialist. Focused on the methodological work of the teacher of music in the school and its constituents. The main ways of teaching practice of organic inclusions in the methodical preparation of future music teachers.

Key words: music teacher, guidance activities, student teaching, music education.

NEW TECHNOLOGIES

S. Danylyuk

Psychological Basis of Formation of Future Philologists' Professional Competence by Means of Internet Technologies

The article deals with the highlighting of the psychological basis of formation of future philologists' professional competence by means of Internet technologies. In particular, psychological characteristics of Internet users are described. Much attention is paid to students' age characteristics that should be considered in the educational process. Positive and negative aspects of the usage of Internet technologies in the process of formation of future philologists' professional competence are defined in the paper.

Key words: professional competence, Internet technologies, information resources, mental activity, Internet education.

O. Kobernik

The preparation of future teachers to use project technology in the design profession

The article explains the relevance of organizational and pedagogical conditions for the preparation of future teachers to use project technology in the design profession. The essence of leading pedagogical planning stages: pre-, stage proper design, project implementation, and post-reflexive.

Key words: design technology, instructional design, professional work, the training of future teachers.

T. Kotyk, L. Berezovcka, T. Gladys

The formation of preparedness of future teachers of junior classes for using informative and communicative technologies at the ukrainian language lessons

The didactic conditions of forming professional preparedness of prospective teachers for using informative and communicative technologies in the process of language teaching in primary school have been explored.

Key words: language teaching, younger school children, informative and communicative technologies.

A. Kuzhelnyi

Peculiarities of independent work organization of the future teachers of technologies

The article reveals peculiarities of independent work organization of the students of speciality «Technological education», its main types and forms and also its meaning in professional education of the future teachers of technologies.

Key words: independent work, professional education, technological education, teacher of technology.

N. Titova

Using an innovative approach to teaching discipline «Paperwork» future teachers technology

The article deals with the problem of training of teachers of technology, namely to introduce the learning process of computer technology to enhance the quality assessment of academic achievements of students. Presented system MOODLE, how innovative approach to teaching discipline «Paperwork» future teachers technologies that acquire specialty 7.01010301 (8.01010301) «Technology Education» at the Institute of Humanities and technical education NPU named after M. P. Dragomanov.

Key words: future teachers technologies, MOODLE, paperwork.

L. Tkachenko

Using project technology in forming future primary school teacher's critical thinking

The article substantiates the effectiveness of the project technology in educational process in I–II accreditation levels pedagogical institution in order to create the critical thinking of the future primary school teacher. The author reveals aspects of the project activities, especially its application in the training of future specialists.

Key words: future teacher's critical thinking, project method, the stages of the project activity, reflective diary.

I. Shevchenko

The development of teachers' professional competence in the teaching of natural sciences

The article deals with teachers professional skills and competence during teaching of sciences entering the newest pedagogical technologies into the educational process. The retraining teachers institutes will help teachers to use the newest technologies into the educational process.

Key words: professional competence, innovations, pedagogical technologies.

THE FORMATION OF PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCE

U. Andrusyak

Some aspects of teacher training to the formation of socio-cultural competence of primary school children on the primary stage of language education

The some aspects of preparation of teachers to forming of social and cultural competence at the primary stage of language education. In the article the concept of «social and cultural competence» is revealed, its components are defined, the theoretical aspects of preparing future teachers of primary school to the formation of the social and cultural competence of junior Schoolchildren is offered, forming this concept during the realization of social-cultural semantic component of the content of the primary school is projected.

Key words: social and cultural competence, teacher of primary school, Ukrainian language, personality.

N. Bezludna

Evaluative activities of teachers the lesson HOW rewards and punishments

The author describes the study questions of evaluation teacher activity on the lesson with the help of such technics as rewards and punishment. Taking into consideration the generalization of scientific position of foreign and Ukrainian workers regarding teacher evaluation activity, general view of a system and evaluative technics is given here; research activity as informative activity of creative character concerning reaction of children to an estimation in educational process is considered; approaches of teachers to a solution of a problem of an estimation of children in the conditions of a formation humanization are defined; objective estimations influence of little children school on development of their self-appraisal is shown here.

Key words: questions of evaluation teacher, rewards, punishment, methods of estimation.

V. Valiuk

The forming of the special competences at the studing of chemical disciplines in the pedagogical university

The content of the special competences of the students of the pedagogical university, that studing of the chemical directions of the preparation and specialities has been showed. It was educed that methodological and theoretical foundations of interactive studies of the chemical disciplines, is the innovative and perspective base of the forming of the special professional chemical competence of the students.

Key words: competence, special chemical competences, interactive studies.

O. Grivkova

Gender competency as innovative element of improvement of professional training of teachers of mathematics in Germany

The article highlights the importance of gender competency as an innovative element of improving the professional training of teachers of mathematics in German universities; emphasis is made on determining the gender competency as one of the key competencies in education.

Key words: gender competency, training teachers of mathematics, research project, the German universities.

O. Zelikovska, A. Kishtel

Development of prospective economists' professional linguistic competence

The article considers the prospective economists' professional linguistic competence building. Some pedagogical conditions of using adaptive model as a way of development the competence above are highlighted.

Key words: professional linguistic competence, adaptive model, competence-based approach, context-based approach, project study.

G. Klochkova

The model of the creative personality of the student, with graphic-design skills

Higher school in the conditions of post-industrial civilization should contribute to the development of mobile, competitive, creative thinking personality of the student, with the methodological culture of creative self-development, understanding of the priority problems of development of the ideas and strategies of the XXI century.

Key words: the personality of the student, the basic culture of the students, creativity, creative environment, graphic design skills, information skills.

O. Kopyl

Problem of Self-Education Competence Formation while Learning English for Specific Purposes

The article describes the ways of self-education competence formation while learning English for specific purposes with the help of informational and communicational technologies.

Key words: self-education competence, ESP, informational and communicational technologies.

L. Kravchenko

Object and purpose BC: living environment axiom potentially safety of rights

The paper presents an analysis of pedagogical model effective lycreating a culture of safety of life of future teachers.

Key words: social security, life safety culture, training, culture stages of life safety of students, the structural components of the safety culture of life.

V. Makarchuk

The Foundation of the future teachers' professional competence in the study course «Fundamentals of educational excellence»

In the article the role of communicative competence of the teacher in his profession and ways of its formation in the process of future teachers of the course «Fundamentals of educational excellence». It was found the essence and meaning of pedagogical skills, her constituents. Analyzed the requirements posed by modern society to the professionalism of teachers. Emphasis is on the importance of pedagogical skills of future teachers in the process of training.

Key words: teacher training, teaching skills, educational activities, educational institution.

D. Pashchenko

Ways of Providing Pedagogical University Lecturer With Professional Skills

Professional skills are considered as fundamental unity of pedagogical excellence and the ability to efficiently organize their scientific work. Two ideas are suggested for preparation of new generation of lecturers of higher education institution: a) an increasing free time of the lecturer; b) an admission to teaching position mainly those who have basic philological education (foreign philology) on condition that they have the second university degree, which answers to the type of the chair, or receive such education.

Key words: professional skills of the lecturer, free time of the lecturer.

EDUCATIONAL ASPECTS OF PREPARATION

G. Ahmetzhanova, G. Simdyanova

Formation of general cultural competence of primary-school children

The article gives the definition to the concept of general-cultural competence and its structure, pedagogical prerequisites for its formation in primary-school children by means of museum pedagogy. The pilot program developed by the author reveals pedagogical potential of developing general-cultural competence in pre-school children by means of using cultural and educational resources of museums, active methods of training in museum-excursion environment. The article suggests a pilot program of forming cultural competence of primary-school children within a «museum kindergarten» system. It also suggests addressing cultural values and using museum pieces in the process of training and developing of primary-school children.

Key words: general-cultural competence, competent approach, museum and pedagogical process.

N. Horbatiuk

Teacher in pedagogical revised va sukhomlinsky

The article is based on an analysis of pedagogical works outstanding educator Vasily Sukhomlynsky described his views on the individual teacher as the role of the teacher in the educational process. Comprehensive development of the individual teacher involves the formation of human and national standards of life, goodness, beauty, truth, freedom, conscience, respect and love. All these virtues teacher must inculcate young rising generation.

Key words: pedagogical heritage V. A. Sukhomlinsky, personality, teacher, education.

L. Delynhevych

Psychological and Pedagogical researches of problem of education of personality of future specialist

The problem of education of future specialists is one of the current in modern psychology and educational science. Before national education, the goal is to educate people of the democratic world, which has a high humanistic culture can counteract manifestations of spirituality, personality that focuses on contemporary realities and prospects of socio-cultural situation, is a specialist in a certain kind of activity.

Key words: individual, activity, interaction, personality development, the spiritual.

I. Rudenko

Collective experimentation as a method of design and implementation of educational modern university

The article describes the characteristics of the organization of educational activity of Togliatti State University in the transition to the new educational standards. The author substantiates the use of the collective experimentation embedded in pedagogical science V. A. Sukhomlinskim, in the design of educational activities of the university in the transition to the GEF.

Key words: educational activities of the university, professional competence, education standards, student associations, the integration of academic and extracurricular activities. method of collective experimentation.