Contents

Enoch K. Beraho A comparative review of bankruptcy reforms in the USA, the UK, China and Malaysia John C. Edmunds, Francisco Arroyo S. Chile's semi-successful export development Wiesław Szczesny Standardization of financial information as a factor decreasing market risk 27 SECTION 2. Management in firms and organizations Krister Bredmar Performance measurement – does ERP systems measure up? Linh Chi Vo Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis Lin-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modelling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Benesik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Papers' abstracts / Анотації до статей	5
A comparative review of bankruptcy reforms in the USA, the UK, China and Malaysia John C. Edmunds, Francisco Arroyo S. Chile's semi-successful export development Wiesław Szczesny Standardization of financial information as a factor decreasing market risk 27 SECTION 2. Management in firms and organizations Krister Bredmar Performance measurement – does ERP systems measure up? Linh Chi Vo Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations 75 SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems $28 Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems $39 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	SECTION 1. Macroeconomic processes and regional economies management
John C. Edmunds, Francisco Arroyo S. Chille's semi-successful export development Wiesław Szczesny Standardization of financial information as a factor decreasing market risk 27 SECTION 2. Management in firms and organizations Krister Bredmar Performance measurement – does ERP systems measure up? 33 Linh Chi VO Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective 33 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations 55 SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Form traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Enoch K. Beraho
Chile's semi-successful export development Wiesław Szczesny Standardization of financial information as a factor decreasing market risk 27 SECTION 2. Management in firms and organizations Krister Bredmar Performance measurement – does ERP systems measure up? Linh Chi VO Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective 63 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations 75 SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	A comparative review of bankruptcy reforms in the USA, the UK, China and Malaysia	9
Wiesław Szczesny Standardization of financial information as a factor decreasing market risk 27 SECTION 2. Management in firms and organizations Krister Bredmar Performance measurement – does ERP systems measure up? 33 Linh Chi Vo Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational 42 Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis 52 Lii-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective 63 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 93 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	John C. Edmunds, Francisco Arroyo S.
Standardization of financial information as a factor decreasing market risk SECTION 2. Management in firms and organizations Krister Bredmar Performance measurement – does ERP systems measure up? 33 Linh Chi Vo Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis 52 Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 93 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Chile's semi-successful export development	19
SECTION 2. Management in firms and organizations Krister Bredmar Performance measurement – does ERP systems measure up? Linh Chi Vo Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective G3 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Wiesław Szczesny
Krister Bredmar Performance measurement – does ERP systems measure up? 33 Linh Chi Vo Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational 42 Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis 52 Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective 63 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations 55 SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 93 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Standardization of financial information as a factor decreasing market risk	27
Performance measurement – does ERP systems measure up? Linh Chi Vo Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective G3 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	SECTION 2. Management in firms and organizations
Linh Chi Vo Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective 63 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations 55 SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 52 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field 114 Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Krister Bredmar
Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective 63 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations 75 SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs 82 Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 93 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field 114 Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Performance measurement – does ERP systems measure up?	33
in a multinational Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis 52 Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective 63 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations 55 SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs 82 Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 93 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field 114 Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model 122	Linh Chi Vo
Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective 63 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations 75 SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 93 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field 114 Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model 122	Process innovation as inquiry in work process: the case of the knowledge managers in a multinational	42
Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective 63 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations 55 SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs 82 Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 93 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field 114 Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model 122	Lianjuan Wang, Steven Si
Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective 63 Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations 75 SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs 82 Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 93 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning 100 Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field 114 Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model 122	Factors influencing successor selection in China: an empirical analysis	52 chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Li-Min Chuang, Chi-Ming Ho, Jung-Jeng Shiu, Hsu-Ping Huang
Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Towards an analytical framework of corporate performance measurement in chemical industry: balanced scorecard perspective	63
SECTION 3. General issues in management Yenhui Ouyang Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs 82 Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 93 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning 100 Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field 114 Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model 122	Odile Chanut, Gilles Paché
Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Franchise relationships: tacit expectations, great expectations	75
Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 5tephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	SECTION 3. General issues in management on subordinates' OCBs Andrea Bencsik Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Yenhui Ouyang
Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems 93 Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning 100 Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field 114 Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model 122	Multilevel modeling of direct effect and interaction of perceived organization justice on subordinates' OCBs	82
knowledge management systems Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model 122	Andrea Bencsik
Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model	Ethical labyrinth in the period of knowledge acquisition and sharing of knowledge management systems	93
Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model 122	Stephanie Watts, Kathleen Curley
From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model 122	Controlling adaptation at the edges: dual-process organizational learning	100
basic ideas on an evolving field Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model 122	Fernando A.F. Ferreira, Sérgio P. Santos, Paulo M.M. Rodrigues
Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model 122	From traditional operational research to multiple criteria decision analysis: basic ideas on an evolving field	114
• • •	Jocelyne Abraham, Jean-Yves Saulquin, Richard Soparnot
	Evaluation of the value of experts to a business: proposal of a theoretical model SECTION 4. Practitioner's corner	122
Stein Østbye, Jan Yngve Sand, Olle Westerlund	Stein Østbye, Jan Yngve Sand, Olle Westerlund
Management, markets and politics: statistical screening for historical footprints	Management, markets and politics: statistical screening for historical footprints in Arctic coal mining	131
_	Authors of the issue
	Submission guidelines for authors
-	A joint subscription form 2010/2011	153