

ANNOTATIONS

OIha KNEYSLER

The methodological dominants of the reinsurance market formation theory

The basic provisions and concepts of economic theory of the branch markets, competition, company, government regulation, institutional theory are considered. The scientific and methodological approaches to the theory of reinsurance market formation are formed based on theoretical and methodological potential economic theories.

Tetjana KIZYMA, Olena SHAMANSKA

Population's financial literacy and behavior of households: aspects of interference

The necessity of increasing the level of population's financial literacy is shown. The author evaluates aspects of interference within financial literacy and financial behavior of households considering modern tendencies. Key directions of state policy in this sphere are determined.

Pavlo PRONOZA

Systematization of definition of "financial crisis" and classification of its types

To the generalization of "financial crisis", is devoted concept and other types of crisis related to it. Based on content-analysis of existing modern approaches to the definition of the considered concepts the definitions of crisis, financial crisis and its manifestations are formulated. Main classification features: the scale, the relation to the national economy and the socio-functional identity are identified.

Leonid STARYCHENKO, Iryna FOKINA

Improvement of the payments for mineral resources from the standpoint of the theory of mining rents

The current system of payments for mineral resources use for the extraction of minerals in the mining industry is evaluated. Based on the theory of mining rents, the proposals are offered to improve the system of payments for the extraction of minerals.

OIha SOBKO

Pragmatism diagnosis of enterprises intellectual capital in conditions of new economy paradigm

The methodological dominant of economic diagnosis of the modern enterprises intellectual capital functioning in an knowledge economy are considered. Three levels of intellectual capital economic diagnosis implementation in practical activity are detected. A monitoring application for intellectual capital promulgation of intellectual level evaluation is proposed to reflect the impact on the operation and analysis efficiency, to determine the impact of the company capitalization.

Andrij DERLYTSJA

World economic crisis in the context of speculations at the financial market

The role of speculative constituent is considered in development of world financial economic crisis. General progress of crisis processes trends in the world measuring are investigated in the context of factors, that predetermine the increase of financial speculations scales and their influence on economic processes. Probable scenatio of crisis phenomena development is outlined in the aspect of risks and threats for Ukraine and a few steps are offered in relation to their minimization.

Oleksandr DLUHOPOLSKYI

Protected goods, merit goods and public goods: comprehension problems of delineation and funding

The article deals with the theoretical problem of delineation protected, merit and public goods. The basic vectors of transformation bad goods into public goods under the government control are reasonable. The main directions of permits and prohibitions against major bad goods on the national and global levels are systematized.

Natalija SAVCHUK

Fiscal federalism and its adaptation to Ukrainian realities

The differences in views on the role of fiscal federalism in the works of Ukrainian and foreign scientists are identified. The trends of fiscal decentralization in Ukraine and countries of the OECD are analysed. The possibility of increasing the level of fiscal decentralization after the administrative-territorial reform is grounded.

Nadija SHAMANSKA

State pension insurance in the conditions of reformation: modern conditions and development priorities

The theoretical aspects of state pension insurance are showed. In the research the peculiarities of pragmatics and problematics of state pension insurance realization at regional level are determined. Key directions of pension insurance improvement in the conditions of pension system reformation are analysed.

Uljana NIKONENKO

Resource dependence of economy: problem conceptualization

The article deals with the problem of resource dependence of economy in contest of "resource curse" and "Dutch disease" theories. The basic views on the problem of natural resources abundance in the works of local and foreign economists are systemized. Positive and negative effects of natural resources abundance are signed. The modernization of institutional mechanism of reforms are proposed.

Yuriy PETRUSHENKO

Development of methods for collective funding as a factor of social and economic community development

The impact of the evolution of financing methods on social and economic community development is investigated. The proposals to local communities concerning the usage of modern tools of collective financing are made based on the research results.

Oleh DYSHKANT

Improvement of normative base in relation to organization of state financial control in Ukraine

Changes are analysed in the normative providing of activity of state financial inspection in the system of state financial control of Ukraine. Problems, that appear in organization of state financial control and state financial inspection, are grounded. Directions of its improvement are distinguished.

Svitlana MIKHAYLENKO, Valerija ZUBRILINA

Effect of innovations budget code of Ukraine on the formation of local revenues

The innovations of the Budget Code of Ukraine are considered concerning the formation of the revenue base of local budgets and strengthen the financial independence of local authorities. The composition and structure of local budgets, compliance proclaimed innovations actual state of local budgets are analysed. The perspectives of solving problems to strengthen the financial basis of local authorities are grounded.

Halina LOPUSHNJAK, Zorjana LOBODINA, Stepan SKYBYLJAK

Formation of local budgets in Ukraine

Theoretical basis and regulation of the formation of local budgets are considered. The current practice is analysed and the main problems of planning and execution of local budgets revenues are identified. Basic guidelines to strengthen revenues of local budgets in Ukraine are outlined.

Myroslav KULCHYTSKYI, Iryna HOROBETS

Pragmatics and issues of treasury cash management system of the state budget expenditures

This article deals with economic content and features of expenditure. The main regularities of cash execution of the State budget of Ukraine are determined. Consider recommendations for improvement of the State treasury to ensure effective management of budget resources. A forecasting expenditures of the State budget of Ukraine on the basis of constructing econometric models.

Oiha KARAPETJAN

Macroeconomic effects and socio-economic impact accumulation of external debt liabilities

The effects of attracting foreign loans for the national economy are investigated, depending on the time of funding and the productivity of their use. The socio-economic impact of over-accumulation of external debt in the short term are analysed. Empirically assessed the nature of the functional dependence of the external debt of the main macroeconomic indicators.

Ostap VATAMANJUK, Iryna HRYNCHUK

Prospects of transition to the more flexible exchange rate formation in Ukraine

The problems, preconditions and possible strategies of the transition to flexible exchange rate formation in Ukraine are considered. The accordance level of some important parameters of Ukrainian economy to the requirements of the optimal exchange rate regime change model is analysed. The conclusion is made that under current conditions the transition to more flexible exchange rate regime of national monetary unit is untimely and inexpedient.

Halina MYSKIV

Structurization and classification of the credit market

The evolution of the credit market structure is investigated, different views of scientists components of the credit market are analysed. Own structured of this market with special classification features is offered.

Oleh LUTSYSHYN

Implementation of financial firmness and reliability of credit unions in Ukraine

The role and place of financial stability and reliability of credit unions' activity are justified. The factors that lead to imbalance increase in the unions' activity are characterized. Prudential standards and capital requirements for credit unions in different countries of the world are grouped and presented. The ways of the prudential supervision mechanism improvement of credit unions' activity in order to strengthen their financial stability are suggested. The questions of the impact of the international Basel committee requirements on credit unions' activity are researched. We have suggested to conduct the thorough analysis of the financial assets and liabilities internal structure in order to determine the impact on them as both internal and external factors.

Serhiy GUDKOVSKYJ

Informative approach to regulator mechanism forming of management pay obligations

The main problems of information support for the enterprises development are identified in economic instability conditions. The system of organization elements and measures of informational support in tax process management is analysed.

Volodymyr HORYN

Financial aspects of health protection in foreign countries: conclusion for Ukraine

The financial aspects of healthcare reform in foreign countries are considered. It is formulated the suggestions deal with using of other countries experience during the health reform in Ukraine. These propositions deal with growth of budget funds using efficiency for health services providing and diversification of branch financing sources and ensuring of medical care availability.

Vitaliy PYSMENYY

Foreign experience and home perspectives of tax by cosmetic surgery

Different approaches to tax on cosmetic surgery. The expediency of introducing abroad the tax on surgery cosmetic is proved. The possibilities of using in Ukraine foreign experience of taxation are determined.

Henrik WNOROWSKI

Vector of bringing of capital by large companies under conditions of contemporary challenges: Polish experience

The mechanism of the corporate sector external funding under conditions of contemporary challenges is revealed. The functioning of the Polish public market is analysed. Vectors of bond market development and advanced changes in the structure of entities funding investment intentions are substantiated.